Dedication

We, the Annual Staff, with respect and pride dedicate this 1955 edition of The Beckvillian to the Seniors for the unstinted time and effort which they have so generously and loyally given to our school.

Our hope for the future is that they will prove to be useful citizens of our nation.

The Staff

Superintendent's Message

Dear Students:

This issue of the Beckvillian pictures another year in the progress of the Beckville Schools and of you as individuals. As you grow older it is my sincere wish that you will be more able to use your storehouse of knowledge in such a way that it will fit you to take your places as responsible citizens in this Great Democracy of Ours.

The value of this book lies not so much in what it means to you during the year of its publication, but more so in the memories which it will help you to recall during later years of your life. May you ever have pleasant memories of your teachers, classmates, friends, and of the Beckville Schools which are striving to help each of you take your proper station in life.

Sincerely,

R. C. Beauchamp

Principal's Message

Dear Students:

The pages of this book depict another year of events in the Beckville Schools. Tomorrow these activities will become history but their memory will linger on in the minds of those who have had a part in their occurrence.

History may be a happy remembrance of past success, or a grim reminder of past failure. Either can serve you well as a guide for the years that follow. The success or failure of your school depends upon your success or failure as a citizen.

Congratulations to the staff and sponsor of this BECKVILLIAN - a task well done.

Sincerely,

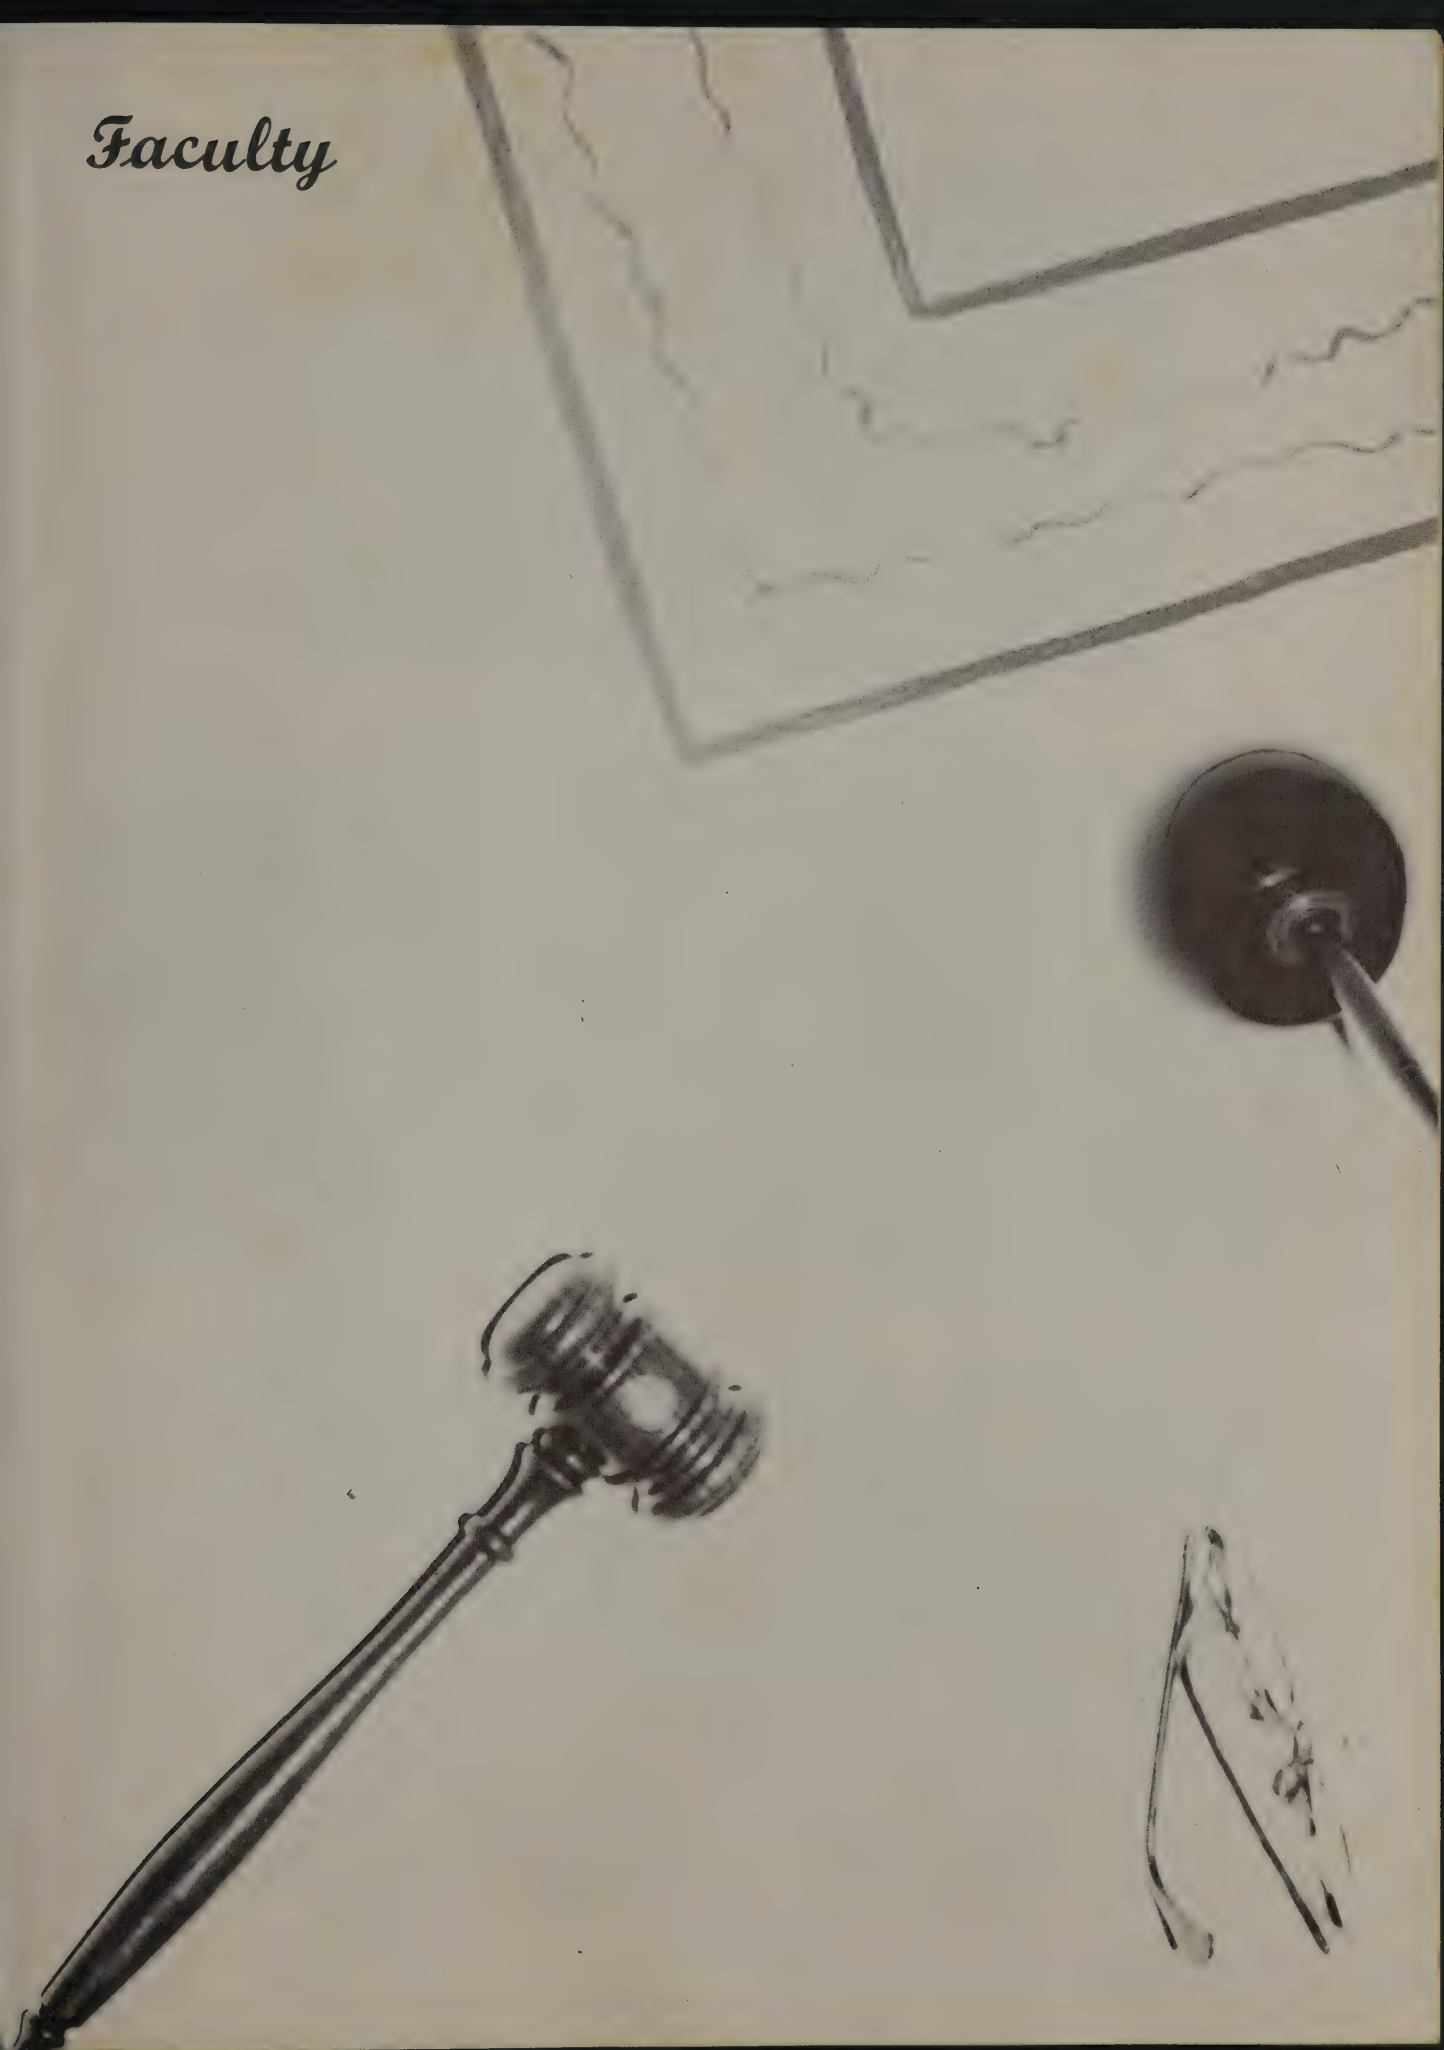

Pete Minter

Seniors

Martha Allen
To know her is to like her.

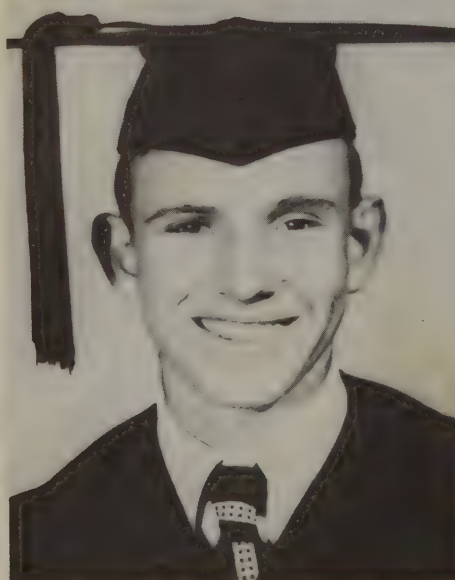

Maxine Bailey
Sympathy is what one girl offers another girl -- in exchange for the details.

Wendell Brevard
A fellow with much respect and kindness.

Joyce Cordray
High heels must have been invented by a woman - who had been kissed on the forehead.

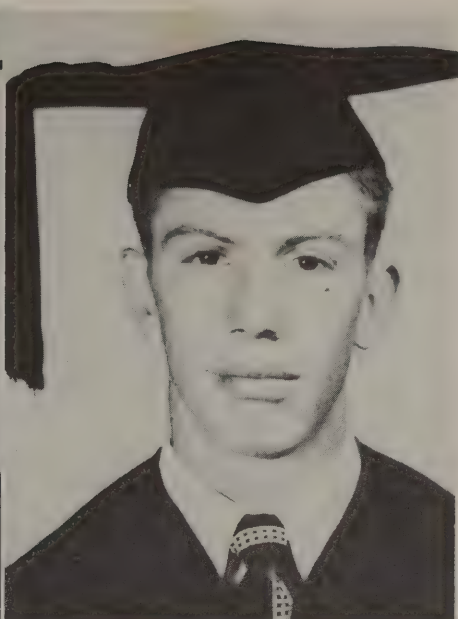

John Dodson
Tall, dark, and handsome; what more could you want?

Mary Jones
Never trouble trouble, till trouble troubles you.

Joe Langley
All the world's a camera
----- "Smile, Please!"

Betty Fite Langford
Many a girl has dropped her eyes -- and picked up a husband.

Betty Joy Martin
Often quiet, but always cheerful.

Mary Pellham
What's wrong about going out on a limb -- That's where the fruit is, isn't it??

Billy Wayne Reed

The trouble with being a good sport is that you have to lose in order to prove it.

Arlin Ross

When your work speaks for itself - don't interrupt.

Virginia Shivers

If at first you don't succeed -- try -- try again! Then stop! There's no need being silly about it.

Clifton Stone

The only golden opportunities left for men today are -- Blondes!

June Weaver

Fair and gentle; good and true; Always sincere and dependable, too.

Patsy Yarborough

Cute, dark, sweet as pie; A better dressed girl you'll never spy.
